BLUEBIRDS FEATURE OF SHOWER GIVEN TO BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Eileen Sullivan Is Guest of Honor; Color Scheme Most Unique

"Bluebirds for Happiness." It was with this adage in mind that bluebirds were chosen as the dominant motif of decoration at the shower given last night in honor of Miss Eileen Sullivan by Miss Ruth Ryan and Miss Corinne Orff at the home of the former, 332 West Acacia street. Miss Sullivan is soon to become the bride of Francis Gordon of Hollywood and has been honored by several pre-nuptial affairs given by some of her many friends.

Paper bluebirds were arranged on the window curtains, as if in flight, and festoons of blue crepe paper were draped in the doorways between the living room and dining room and den, fastened with tiny bluebirds. A kewpie, dressed as a bridegroom, attracted considerable attention.

Given Luncheon Set

The gift to this charming bride-to-be was a luncheon set of Madeira hand- embroidered linen. The package containing this gift, which was tied with blue ribbon and fastened with tiny bluebirds, was presented in a rather novel manner. The guests in turn were blindfolded and were told to pin a wing on a large bluebird which had been placed at an appropriate place.

When it came Miss Sullivan's turn she was started in another direction, unbeknown to her. When she had the blindfold removed, it was found that she had pinned the wing on a large bluebird which had been placed atop the gift package.

After all the guests had examined the luncheon set, Miss Dorothy Hunt played several piano numbers.

Color Scheme of Blue

Refreshments were served about 9:30 p. m. The dining table was centered with a large bouquet of blue corn flowers and baby breath. From the electric dome over the table were draped strands of blue crepe paper. Blue bon-bon baskets were at each place. On the handles of the baskets were balanced celluloid bluebirds holding in their bills place cards with the names of the guests written in blue.

The color scheme of blue was further carried out in the blue-bird paper napkins, and in the brick ice cream, which was white and through the center of which was molded a blue heart. Home made cakes and candies were also served. Little paper bluebirds also dotted the edge of the table cover.

Later in the evening several vocal solos were given by Miss Isabel Yates, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Hunt at the piano, and zither numbers by Miss Corinne Orff. Games completed the evening's entertainment, the guests deparating at a late hour.

Guests present included Miss Eileen Sullivan and mother Mrs. Robert Sullivan, Miss Louise Ayala, Miss Lillian Shick, Miss Naomi Berier, Miss Isabel Yates, Miss Ruth Spafford, Miss Dorothy Hunt, Mrs. Harry Ryan, Mrs. C. J. Orff and the hostesses, Miss Ruth Ryan and Miss Corinne Orff.

HERE'S NEW RECIPE IN WHICH RAISIN PUTS BIG KICK

No, It Has Nothing to Do With Home Brew; It's All About Fishing

When it comes to telling fish tales, J. G. Huntley of 221 West Broadway, claims the record locally. Recently he left for the mountains of central California with the promise to forward his friends the latest rod and reel gossip. In the following letter he tells of a new fish lure:

By J. G. (JACK) HUNTLEY

We left Glendale at 1 p. m., July 20, and arrived at Visalia at 9 p. m. We put up there for the night, leaving at 8:30 the next morning, making a stop at Three Rivers to arrange for horses for a trip into the back country. Again on the way, the second stop was made at the Cedar Creek checking station and another stop for lunch at "Tolomai" Giant Forest at 2:30 p. m., where we were glad to find our Glendale friends, the Websters, nicely located. We spent a day and a half in arranging camp, where we had many of the comforts of home.

The next thing on the program of events was a fishing trip, arranged by Joe Webster and myself. On my suggestion the initial trip was over the short and easiest trail (about a mile and a half down the mountain side to the river).

Called Early in Morning

The trip to the big pools of the Kawehea was scheduled for the next morning. The alarm was set for 4 a. m. and Joe called me precisely at the time. The air was crisp and cool as I poked my head out from under the covers, but we were going fishing and nothing would daunt us. Half an hour later we enjoyed our coffee, bacon and eggs. Our outfit and lunch were prepared and placed in the car the previous evening. We left camp as the dawn was showing

H. F. CROFT BREAKS RIBS

H. F. Croft of 1753 Gardena avenue, who represents Cooper, Coates and Casey in this territory, has returned from an eastern trip. Mrs. Croft, who accompanied him, is making a more extended visit. After seeing Chicago Mr. Croft decided he would attend to property interests in Muskegon, Michigan. He arrived there on an early train and decided to take a walk out to a new bridge. While trudging along the highway a passing "flivver" tossed him twenty feet. Three ribs were found broken. Mr. Croft woke up at the receiving hospital, but he had the pleasure of knowing the car was smashed to pieces.

Young 'Speed Kings' Will Contest Today on Grand View Hill

At 3 o'clock this afternoon all of the youthful "speed kings" of Glendale will be assembled on the Grand View hill at Brand's Miradero castle gate.

That is the starting piont for the coaster wagon race in which more than a score of boys are entered. Three prizes are to be given, Mrs. C. G. Woods offering $5 cash to first and Len Leech giving two books to the second and one book to the third in the final heat.

On account of Grand View avenue being narrow, the race will be run in heats of five wagons each. The winners of each group will compete in a final event for the prizes. Inasmuch as any number of heats can be run off the competition is open and fair to all, according to young Leech.

An official starter, judges and guards for the course have been named. Tryouts on the hill were numerous yesterday and some real speed was displayed by the four-wheeled carts.

Alfred W. Knight of 1305 East California avenue recently left for Lompoc, where he is employed by a large chemical manufacturing plant. JULY BUSINESS OF GAS COMPANY IS RECORD-MAKER

Usually Dull Months Bring Surprise; Cut In Rates Over State Announced

Inexplicable as it may seem the July business of the Southern California Gas company broke all records for previous months. Commenting on this fact W. R. Phelon, district manager, says that usually July and August are the dull months because less heat is required and many people are away on vacations. Naturally, he was surprised and pleased, too, to learn of the greater amount of business on the books.

In the Los Angeles district, including the city of Glendale, the Southern California Gas company and the Los Angeles Gas & Electric corporation has been ordered to put in effect a 2-cent reduction per 1000 cubic feet. The new rates are effective on meter readings of September 3 which means that gas used this month here will be about 2½ per cent cheaper on the minimum charge.

Reductions Are Explained

Other communities served by gas manufactured from gasoline get reductions as high as 8 cents, due to the drop in crude oil, according to the state railroad commission authorities in Los Angeles who were interviewed this morning by The Glendale Evening News representatives.

It is stated that this is the first result of the policy adopted by the commission on June 21, when ratios were established between the price of gas to the consumers and the cost of oil to the companies. The small reduction here is due to the fact that in southern California natural and artificial gas, known as mixed gas, is furnished and the price of crude oil affects only the manufactured product.

To keep up with the demands for service in the rapidly-growing Pacific and Grand View districts of Glendale, the Southern California Co. has just completed laying 3260 feet of two-inch mains. This improvement will materially strengthen the system, according to H. P. Courtney who is in charge of local distribution.

Seven Local Legion Members at Sessions

Headed by Post Commander Emil Kiefer, seven members of the Glendale Post of the American Legion will leave Friday night for Yosemite, where they will attend the annual state convention of the California legionnaires. Although the first session of the convention will not be called until Monday the local ex-service men are planning to leave early in order to take in a few of the sights en route. They expect to arrive at the famous resort Sunday morning.

Reservations have been made at Camp Curry for the Glendale delegation, as all of the convention gatherings are to be held at that place. A final caucus for the members of the Ninth Congressional district, of which Glendale is a unit, has been scheduled to take place at 8 o'clock Monday morning, to discuss several measures that will be brought up during the business sessions of the convention.

The other members of the local delegation are James F. McBryde, W. B. Kelly, Bert Richardson, Al Moniot, C. W. Nish and A. L. Knowles. They expect to return to Glendale Saturday of next week.

BOOSTER FOR LANCASTER

C. D. Nicholson of Lancaster, in the Antelope valley, is spending a few weeks here at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Nicholson of 427 East Acacia avenue, under the care of a doctor. He is a great booster for both Lancaster and the valley, sharing in the belief of many that oil soon will be struck in paying quantities. Several wells now are being drilled in that vicinity, he reports.

Wickham Steed, editor of the London Times, declaraed in an address here to the San Francisco Women's Center. The argument of the dollar, he said, is ultimately the only one that appeals to men and the world is weary of men's conferences which apparently end only in more complicated squabbles. "Women," he said, "do not want war and will earnestly try to prevent it. It is the influence of their superior logic that should be brought to bear upon the disarmament conference."

Large Contracts Being Let for Construction Work; City 'Straight Ahead'

With more than a quarter million dollars in new construction under way the first half of August, there seems to be every indication that the $500,000 mark will be reached, making a new record in building annals here.

Among several contracts recorded recently, nearly $100,000 will be added in substantion business and church piles. Harry Sperl's Glendale Shops block opposite The Glendale Evening News office will be built by Contractor Howard Squires of Los Angeles for $13,650. It is to be completed within ninety days. S. M. There are others in outlying districts too numerous to mention.

Glendale is going "straight ahead" with its program of construction, making a business section extending from San Fernando north on Brand boulevard to Doran street; from Brand boulevard northwest along San Fernando road to Windsor road; from Central avenue east on Broadway to Adams street; and from Central avenue east on Colorado boulevard to Glendale avenue. Orange and Harvard streets, Maryland and Central avenues also will be the scene of building activity in the next few months.

GLENDALE TROOP 4, BOY SCOUTS, PLAN FOR NEW WORK

H. Benjamin Robison Host to Youths; Phonograph for Camp Sought

Glendale Troop, No. 4, Boy Scouts, gathered together at the home of the scout director, H. Benjamin Robison, 407 North Louise street, Tuesday night for the purpose of reorganizing the troop.

The boys seemed very glad to get back to work again and are full of enthusiasm for the things they can accomplish during the coming year, and the camping trip they are going to enjoy next week.

A majority of the members of Troop Four will go on the camping trip to Lytle Creek, leaving next week. The program for the trip includes a day's hike to "Benito Falls," one of the most beautiful sights in Southern California, where the water drops in a sheer curtain from a height of 150 feet. There will also be trips to Cajon Pass and one to Middle Fork and a visit to the old mines in that section.

For South Glendale Troop

The scout director will visit Troop No. 1 at South Glendale tonight and present them with certificates of registration they have been expecting for some time.

The scouts are hoping that someone in Glendale has an old phonograph that they would be glad to lend or give the boys for use at the camp during their rest hour and about the campfire.

An old-fashioned one with a horn would do very well for this purpose and any generous person who would like to donate a phonograph can get in touch with the director, Ben Robison, by calling Glendale 2102-M or informing The Evening News.

MYSTERY TRUNK IN CASE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—The "offensive defense" of Madalynne Obenchain opened today. Ralph Obenchain, chief counsel for his beautiful ex-wife, now defendant in one of the west's most sensational murder trials, planned to appear in court and demand an injunction to prevent Sheriff William Traeger from seizing a mysterious trunk belonging to Mrs. Obenchain. The trunk has just arrived here from San Francisco, consigned to Mrs. Obenchain and addressed to the local hotel which was her home prior to the Kennedy tragedy. Traeger notified the hotel authorities that he intended to seize and open the trunk. Obenchain notified Traeger that he intended to apply for an injunction "to prevent seizure of the trunk without a search warrant." It was intimated that officials of the sheriff's office would have difficulty in obtaining a search warrant, if they did not know definitely what they were searching for.

Miss Classie Marlowe, Winner In Noted Art Contest, To Direct Fashion Show At Merchants' Exposition

HERE'S MISS CLASSIE MARLOWE, AMERICAN BEAUTY

She was winner in a perfect form contest; she has posed for a noted sculptor; she has been featured on the vaudeville stage, and she is prominent in fashion shows. Miss Marlowe will direct the fashion show in connection with the Glendale Merchants' Exposition.

The hearts of Glendale women are aflutter, likewise, the hearts of the mere males are getting in an extra beat or two.

And all because of a big revue of beauty and fashion which is to be here shortly as one of the especial attractions presented at the Glendale Merchants' Exposition, which will have its grand opening Saturday night, August 27.

In connection with the style revue with lovely girl models, it was announced today that Miss Classie Marlowe, rated as one of the most beautiful young women in America, had returned from New York after visiting the fall fashion show held at the Hotel Commodore. Everything that is new from negligees to heavily fur-trimmed coats make their debut at this yearly event. Designers, fashion creators, buyers and the mere public govern their styles from the garments shown. Miss Marlowe will be the directress of the forthcoming fashion event held here in Glendale.

The management takes great pride in stating that, in order to show styles of ready-to-wear for her ladyship, that an illuminated runway promenade will be erected the full length of the pavilion, upon which the living models appear in a parade of bewitching splendor, displaying only the smartest of dress sold in Glendale, by the merchants of Glendale.

Miss Marlowe is known not only for her beauty, but also has a national reputation as directress of fashion shows. She was a feature at the Retail Milliners' association revue at the Hotel Astor, New York, the National Retail and Manufacturers' association, at the Hotel Commodore, New York, Garment Manufacturers' association show at Chicago, the government demonstrations of Cartridge silk cloth, and similar affairs throughout the United States.

Miss Marlowe is an American girl and pulls for the American fashion creator—why should the American women look to Paris for style, when we have right here creators of fashions that are significant, and just as charming?

In the perfect form contest conducted by Bernarr McFadden, noted health expert, Miss Marlowe was the winner, during the San Francisco fair A. Sterling Calder, noted sculptor, exclusively adopted Miss Marlowe's figure for his world-famous art work at the fair.

She was featured in most of the eastern cities last year in the role of "Everywomen," and upon the vaudeville stage in her original visualization of "The Perfect Woman," which created a great sensation. By special favor Miss Marlowe during the Glendale Merchants' Exposition will present this feature.

Models appearing under the direction of Miss Marlowe will be thoroughly experienced and previously trained by her. Every model will parade in garments suited only to her individual personality and character, thus following the thought of leading creators of style to clothe the various types of figure in the most becoming fashion to personify the individuality and personality of the wearer.

Harry Carey Shown In 'Desperate Trails' at Glendale Tonight

Harry Carey has his most dramatic and sympathetic role in "Desperate Trails," the Universal photodrama which is to be shown at the Glendale Theatre today and tomorrow.

Courtney Ryley Cooper wrote the story for the Red Book magazine, where it was widely read and Jack Ford directed its production at Universal City and in Truckee, the picturesque snow-country of California. The story deals with a man who goes to prison for another, finds that the girl he thinks he loves is unfatihful and returns to marry the widow of the man who caused his trouble.

Remrakable photography, the work of Harry Fowler, gives a thrilling dramatic quality to the big emotional scenes where the star is seen staggering across the trackless white immensity of snow to escape from the man-hunters who pursue him as a train robber.

The Hallroom Boys in "False Roomers," Screen Snaps and the latest Pathe News add comedy and novelty to the thrills of the feature. Boys and girls will enjoy this dandy bill.

One of the best "test" hills in this country for automobiles is Reservoir Hill, Kansas City, Mo. It has a 27.33 per cent grade.

There Will Be Big Howl No Matter How This May Be Decided

Which is worse for official Glendale:

The howl of seventy-five citizens who object to a dog kennel being established at San Fernando Road and Riverdale Drive, or

The howl of the dogs yet to be placed there by J. A. Benjamin of Pomona, who has constructed an $800 fence around his property?

There is an investigation under way and it may be that the kennels will be moved 100 feet from the street, thereby minimizing the noise dogs do make.

FIVE STATES TO PICNIC

The five great states bordering on the Gulf of Mexico have an annual picnic reunion and this year it will be held in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, Saturday, August 20, with basket dinners at noon. Two great speakers will be heard during the program hour. Rev. Robert P. Shuler, known as "Fighting Bob Shuler," and Dr. Charles C. Selecman, another well-known orator, will be the chief attraction. All former residents of Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida will be expected to attend. Hot coffee, basket dinners, souvenir badges and county registers are other features.

Douglas MacLean Is Attraction Today on Palace Grand Screen

A new comedy starring Douglas MacLean always is an interesting event in filmdom, but when that comedy is "One a Minute," which was shown at the Palace Grand Theatre yesterday, it's worth talking about anywhere. In his latest Paramount-Ince production, Mr. MacLean has the part of a small town druggist who battles with a syndicate headed by the father of the girl he loves, for the preservation of his business. How he beats the trust and how he wins the girl of his choice, are admirably brought out in this picturization of Fred Jackson's celebrated stage farce. The supporting company, headed by Marion De Beck, a charming leading woman, proved exceptionally capable in bringing out the contrasting elements of the story. You will want to see this show today.

"The Runaway Train" and "Sunless Sunday" are two other bright spots on the bill, while Bray pictographs delight.

Manager Fleming announces that "Scrap Iron" and "Miracles of the Jungle" are coming one week from Thursday for a three day run.

There would be but few mysteries in this world if people looked into everything as closely as a woman looks into the mirror.

Greater Care Would Prevent Accidents, Points Out Writer

Editor The Evening News:—Having just learned with much concern of the unfortunate accident to one of our Glendale boys who lost a foot while alighting from one of the Glendale cars, may I direct your attention to a rather unhealthy condition on the Glendale line which invites just such accidents as these.

Time and time again, with my arms filled to overflowing with packages, I have approached the exit of the car to have the signal given to go ahead by the conductor even before I had reached the steps making it necessary for me to alight while the car was in motion. At times the car had developed considerable momentum before I was able to alight. Fortunately, I know how to handle myself in such emergencies. Just a few days ago a rather corpulent lady of about middle age, found herself in the very same condition as that indicated above. She would certainly have attempted to alight had not the conductor caught her by the shoulder, holding her on the car, very much against her will, and dropping her at the next stop. It is needless to say that she was a very dissatisfied passenger. However, had the conductor not taken the precaution to hold her, a very serious accident would have resulted.

I do not write this in the spirit of antagonism. I believe the people of Glendale will agree with me that our service is all that could be desired. The employees are very courteous. There are times when unfavorable conditions develop, the magnitude of which are unwillfully overlooked by those in close contact with them, which, if drawn to the attention of the proper officials may prevent an unnecessary catastrophe.

Yours in the interest of good service, H. L. TEPE.

HERMAN H. BREIDT VISUALIZES HUGE FOOTHILL CITY

Tujunga Resident Tells of Some Reasons Why There Is Need for Railway

Judge Herman H. Breidt of Tujunga appeared before the Chamber of Commerce directors here yesterday to urge the extension of the Glendale & Montrose railroad line into the Monte Vista valley. He disclaimed being a judge, but served long in the Illinois legislature and also filled the position of city attorney for Chicago.

Speaking of the growth of Tujunga, he said that from a community of 500 two or three years ago it has grown to more than 2500 —a 400 per cent increase— and it is growing every day. Additional transportation facilities are essential to the growth of the Verdugo foothills, he declared.

"You have wide awake people in Glendale and the nucleus of a city second only to Los Angeles," said Mr. Breidt in referring to the possibilities of development here. "The Verdugo foothills in which both Glendale and Tujunga are located," he added, "make for one of the most beautiful spots in the world. That magnetism is going to bring this city of Glendale and its vicinity to the front in southern California.

There's No Better Place

"I believe that your Verdugo Woodlands section and foothill sites are going to have the finest homes eventually in suburban Los Angeles. Whenever I can say a good word for any town, I boost Glendale and Tujunga, too. There is no better place on earth to live."

Taking up his subject of additional transportation facilities, Mr. Breidt very pointedly said:

"We want the street cars to run into Tujunga.

"You want them to run there for we have 2500 and more people. The bulk of their trade should come to your stores. We have to come through Glendale. We cannot conveniently go to Burbank and Los Angeles is quite a ways away.

"Tujunga wants your co-operation in this matter and within two weeks we will have a meeting of our Chamber of Commerce and invite you to be present. At that time we hope to have the railway owners present and the three parties concerned can definitely co-operate in gaining that which we mutually need."

Referred To Committee

The Glendale directors referred the matter to their railroad committee for report.

E. F. Sanders, who takes charge of the membership of the local chamber as assistant secretary, spoke briefly on how he obtained the twenty-six new members reported in last night's edition of The Glendale Evening News, stating "We must make people realize there is but one institution, one organization for the civic development of this city and that is the Chamber of Commerce."

City Manager William H. Reeves told the directors he saw a great opportunity for the building of an ideal city here. Glendale is laid out so that it can have a great population.

T. W. Watson, who retires as city manager, echoed the sentiments that this city has a great future.

F. W. Van Complains About Postal Service

F. W. Van, a local building contractor, calls the attention of The Glendale Evening News to what he considers carelessness on the part of the Los Angeles postoffice, of which Glendale is a branch. On August 12 he mailed a money order in a letter to Dr. P. A. Foster in Los Angeles. It had not been received yesterday afternoon, August 16. Mr. Van states that this is the third similar experience with mail from Glendale to Los Angeles.

From time to time many citizens have expressed their exasperation at the postal service here. However, Glendale may have a postmaster some day who will hear the complaints and do his utmost to rectify mistakes.

HERE'S NEW RECIPE IN WHICH RAISIN PUTS BIG KICK

through the thickly-studded trees and drove to a point on the road where a faint trail led us over the top of the hill. This trail was soon lost to view, and we stalked through buck thorn and manzanita for the next several hundred feet. Then after climbing and sliding down over rocks for a thousand feet we reached the fascinating Kawhea river with its beautiful pools well-stocked with luscious trout.

As we were assembling our tackle, each eager to land the first rainbow, we were of the opinion that the limit of twenty fish was too low, for we were sure we would soon have that number and be on our way back to camp. It was 6:15 when I cast my first fly over the rippling waters, without a raise. Again and again the rod was whipped forward without as much as a move of a trout toward the camouflage fly. I then tried a grasshopper, also without result, and then several types of flies and then salmon eggs were resorted to. These enticed a few of the small, uninvited trout which were tossed back into the stream.

Blames It on the Moon

I looked at my watch and it was 10:30, and no fish. Something surely was wrong, either some kind-hearted person had served the fish an abundant breakfast, or perhaps they were on a hunger strike. Joe said the man in the moon was responsible for our failure, suggesting that he had turned his searchlight on the stream throughout the night, converting the pools into mirrors and the ripples into sparkling jewels, which attracted the bug family to dance over the charmed waters, and in turn the fish had their feast in the wee hours of the night. As trout only have two meals a day this meant that they would not be ready for their next meal until late in the afternoon.

I then decided to have my lunch and enjoy a nap on a shady rock for a few hours. But, after finishing lunch and seeing a few stray raisins remaining the thought occurred to me that perhaps the trout would like these as an eye-opener. I therefore attached one to my hook, cast it into the pool, and then stretched out on the rock and soon fell asleep. Immediately scores of fish were swarming about the raisin, many of them eighteen to twenty inches long.

I then witnessed an unusual spectacle. These large trout, of apparently two varieties, had engaged in a regular battle over the raisin which resulted in favor of the rainbows. As I pulled the raisin out of the water there were more than forty trout clinging to it. I called to Joe to assist me in undoing them. But, instead of Joe, there appeared a stranger who suggested I had violated the fish and game law and was under arrest, and accordingly led me up over the hill to the rangers' station, where he let me off after imposing a $10 fine and cautioning me not to repeat the offense. I lamented the loss of the fish more than the $10, as he had also taken the fish.

Gets Corner On Raisins

But, as I recalled the incident of the raisin, the thought of buying up the raisin supply occurred to me. I accordingly went to the only store in that section of the mountains and bought their stock of raisins, which consisted of two cases, forty-eight cartons, of the seedless variety. The news of the new trout lure spread among the 1500 campers like wildfire, and they lined up a block long at the store to get raisins, only to learn that I had bought up the supply. They soon located our camp, and upon their promise not to encroach upon my favorite pools, to which only the hardened hiker would venture, I divided the raisins with them.

The next morning found the river lined with fishermen as well as women, all catching a good string of rainbows from eight to eighteen inches in length. Such a parade of happy fishermen entering camp was never before witnessed, not even on opening day, when the trout take to anything that comes their way.

As the fish were curling and browning over the hundreds of camp fires, all campers joined in singing "Hail to the Man Who Discovered the New Trout Lure."

Just then a bee fly popped his prong into the tip of my nose and woke me up, only to see my raisin floating on the pool. But with all the patience of a fisherman, I got down to business and within a few hours landed a good mess of the rainbows, not with raisins, but with bee flys, and on meeting Joe found he had the limit. We then started happily climbing up the cliffs and through the brush, where we encountered several deer, and reached camp in good time to have a delicious trout dinner, which was greatly enjoyed by all and wished that our Glendale friends might have been here to enjoy the sport.

MRS. S. E. GRANT IS HOME FROM TWO MONTHS IN EAST

Meets Many Old Friends In Several States; Receives Welcome at Reunion

Mrs. S. E. Grant, who with her husband manages the Arbor Rest Home at 1209 East Lexington drive, returned Monday morning from a two months' trip through South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Oklahoma and Texas, in which states she visited relatives and old friends.

Among some of her pleasant experiences was the meeting at Anita, Iowa, of the "Country Cousins' club" founded twenty-six years ago by Mrs. Grant.

There were originally forty members, all being friends and relatives living between Anita and Adair. Quite a number of the old-time members still live in that vicinity and took great joy in greeting the founder.

Enjoys Family Reunion

While in Oklahoma she enjoyed a delightful family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hammer, who own a beautiful country place a few miles from Carney. The first week in August she took a camping trip with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Grant of Shawnee, Okla., on the Deep Fork river.

All her visits were made more than delightful by her friends and relatives for Mrs. Grant has left warm friends wherever she has lived and feels that her trip more than proved to her that absence only makes your friends more dear.

She left Glendale June 15 and returned August 15, making her vacation cover exactly two months, and the warm welcome she received from her eastern friends were none of them half so enthusiastic as the one she received when she reached Glendale, for her absence has been keenly felt by all her friends and patients.

What the Chandler Motor Means to You

It means much to you. It is the exclusive Chandler motor, found under the hood of no other car. It was designed by Chandler engineers eight years ago, and has been developed and refined by the same engineers through all these years.

Thousand of owners named it "the Marvelous Motor." And it is distinctly that. The Chandler motor is alive with power. It furnishes all the speed that any right-minded driver could ever want to use. It readily climbs in high any steep hill or long mountain ascent that any car can climb. It pulls, easily and smoothly, through deep sand or mud.

You can throttle it down to three miles an hour in congested traffic and step away like a flash from less lively cars. Its flexibility is not surpassed.

The Chandler motor never overheats, no matter how hot the day, how hard the pull or how fast the speed.

THRIFT FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN URGED UPON BANKERS

State Superintendent Dodge Points Out Encouraging System Would Assist

Jonathan S. Dodge, state superintendent of banks, in an interview, discussed the statement at that time being issued by him to all state banks concerning the importance of encouraging thrift among school children by the operations of savings banks. These operations, according to Mr. Dodge, are in the nature of a school savings system, whereby savings of school children may be collected in the schools through the teachers and principals acting as agents of the bank authorized to receive the deposits of the children.

Mr. Dodge pointed out that under the system as he hoped it would be enlarged the habit of thrift would be strongly ingrained in the school children of the state, thus giving practical co-operation to the recent amendment to the Political Code which provides that the teaching of thrift shall be a part of school study. Mr. Dodge also said, in part:

Great Showing Is Made

"In reviewing the statistics in connection with the school savings system as operated in this state, I am struck with the significant figures showing that almost 40,000 school children of the state have more than one million one hundred thousand dollars saving deposits, and this with only twenty-four banks utilizing an opportunity open to every savings bank or bank with a savings department. In the fiscal year just past, the aggregate school savings deposit increased $300,000, and the total number of depositors increased by 7,000.

"Nothing could be closer to the ultimate good of the state, to the teachings of good citizenship, to the economic education of the younger generation and to the promotion of thrift than a universal and familiar system of school savings.

Many Civic Virtues

"Should one bank in each county inaugurate and advertise this feature of savings banking, no one might estimate the volume of business which might be done, especially in view of the fact that in the last year, without encouragement or impetus, the total of school savings increased 39 per cent.

"Thrift is the foundation of many civic virtues. It must be taught in our schools. It must be encouraged by our banks. And the rewards will be evidenced in better citizenship and more stable government."

SAY EVIDENCE COMPLETE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Authorities today believed they had drawn a net of evidence around William Hightower, charged with the murder of the Rev. Father Patrick Heslin, from which he cannot escape. What they consider the final blow to Hightower's defense was delivered yesterday when Mrs. Marie Wendell, housekeeper for Father Heslin, identified Hightower as the "muffled stranger" who called the priest from his Colma home on the night of August 2 to "minister to a dying friend." Police expressed the belief that as far as Hightower's story is concerned "Dolly Mason" is a myth and said they believed it could be proven. They did not deny that there is a "Dolly Mason" but claimed that whoever she might be Hightower merely used her as a character in his weird story.

JAPANESE PRESS ALARMED

TOKIO, Aug. 17.—Reports that the United States is proposing international control of China have stirred much feeling here. The reported plan is disapproved by both foreigners and Japanese who term it absurd and impossible. The Japanese press declares that it would drive China from American influence into the arms of Japan.

COULD CALL CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—President Harding would be authorized to call a conference of the leading mercantile nations of the world to consider means of stabilizing international exchange and the values of foreign money, under a resolution introduced in the senate by Senator King of Utah.

AIDS EX-WIFE; LOSES JOB

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—It cost Ralph Obenchain his position with the Aetna Life Insurance company to go to the aid of his former wife, Madalynne, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy in Los Angeles. The company has terminated the services of Obenchain, its attorney.

From the makers of U.S. Royal Cords to the users of Fabric Tires

"Giving to the fabric tire user fresh, live tires. Being made now. Being shipped now."

THE U.S. USCO TREAD

Here is the U. S. Usco Tread, with a long-established standard of service among motorists who have an eye to value, as well as to price. While selling for less than the other tires in the U. S. Fabric line, the Usco has earned a reputation for quality and dependable economy which is not exceeded by any tire in its class.

IN all of modern merchandising the biggest conundrum is the fabric tire situation.

Around 70% of all car owners use fabric tires.

Their instinct for quality is as strong and insistent as any one else's.

Why, then, are they offered such hodge-podge stocks of "discount tires," "odd lots," "seconds," "retreads" and other so-called bargains of uncertain origin?

Sooner or later the public always seeks out quality. As a matter of self-protection—if for no other reason. The out-and-out opinion in favor of U. S. Fabric Tires has spread more this year than it ever did.

People have gotten very close to the U. S. policy. Felt it. Benefited by it. And passed the word along.

It's a policy settled to one standard for all U. S. Tires. Whether fabrics or cords. Small sizes or large.

Giving to the fabric tire user fresh, live tires. Being made now. Being shipped now.

All the original U. S. vitality and service comes through when you buy a U. S. Fabric Tire.

"Usco," "Chain," "Nobby." Three different treads.

Built by the same brains, the same policy, the same quality ideals that have made U. S. Royal Cords the standard measure of tire worth.

DEMANDS RECOGNITION

DUBLIN, Aug. 17.—"Only on the basis of our recognition as an Irish republic will we deal with any foreign country whatever," said Eamon De Valera addressing the Dail Eireann.

The Sinn Fein parliament met here to determine upon rejection or acceptance of the British peace offer—or the reference of the questions which means peace or war for Ireland, to a plebiscite.

"The election of this very parliament itself was practically a plebiscite," De Valera said, in the uncompromising speech with which he opened the session.

"The Dail's election was an expression of the will of the Irish nation."

"The only government the people of Ireland recognize is the Dail Eireann," declared De Valera.

FISHERMAN HOOKS CORPSE

LONG BEACH, Aug. 17.—Fishing off the Pine avenue pier here William Richie hooked what he thought would be a record catch. Just before his line broke he caught sight of a human body. RUMORS OF OPEN SHOP

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—The United States railroad labor board was understood to be probing charges that railroads were establishing the open shop plan in its shops, thus evading jurisdiction of the board.

'BIG FOUR' ARE AROUSED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Wrath of the "big four" railway brotherhoods was aroused by the action of the senate interstate commerce committee in suddenly cutting off hearings on the administration bill to extend financial relief to the railroads. Refusal of the committee to hear William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists and L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, authorized to speak for the "big four," was characterized as the "most un-American tyrannical and autocratic procedure" in the history of a congressional committee in a statement issued by Johnston and Sheppard.

ESTIMATE OF UNEMPLOYED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—There are now 5,573,000 persons unemployed in the United States, according to the statement of Secretary of Labor Davis. The statement was made in response to a resolution by Senator McCormick of Illinois, adopted by the senate recently. Davis stated that the figures were based on the best estimates from all available sources. He said the department did not have any estimate of the unemployed ex-service men called for in the resolution.

MURDER THEORY ADVANCED

ATLANTA, Aug. 17.—The killer of J. Douglas Edgar, noted golf star, was being sought with renewed vigor by Atlanta police, following the statement of Lamar Poole, chief of detectives, that the golfer, in his opinion was murdered instead of hit by an automobile, as was first thought. Edgar bled to death from a deep gash just above one of his knees. There were no other bruises on his body.

MEETING TO COST MILLION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The disarmament conference will cost the United States at least $1,000,000, according to conservative unofficial estimates here today. The $200,000 appropriation requested by Under Secretary of State Fletcher is regarded as merely a start on the total bill which the United States will be required to foot after the last delegate has started home.
